

Small Flock Sheep & Goat Course

This webinar is intended for Canadian veterinarians and veterinary professionals and will assist the mixed animal veterinarian and veterinary staff in understanding the normal production cycles of sheep and goats, how to perform a clinical examination of individual animals as well as the flock and understand the common diseases and conditions that affect these species, their proper diagnosis, and control measures. Important and common zoonotic diseases and how to protect their clients will also be covered. Specific welfare issues, e.g., euthanasia, disbudding, tail-docking and castration, will be also included.
